Allow user to upload an image of themselves and a button to allow them to upload an image and .change() will be used to change value

use .val() to allow user input and save the information as well as an event listener that checks validation of password and email to make sure it matches

A required checkbox of the terms and condition so there needs to be a if and else function to check the boxes of submit button will not run. Also the submit button will save user input, and will return the user back to the landing page. This button will also send an email confirmation and check on the server if the email is not already in use
